Danish Hospital Ship Serves with UN in Korea

Denmark's contribution to the United Nations effort in Korea is the fully manned hospital ship "Jutlandia," formerly a passenger liner on the North Atlantic run. The ship, now in Korean waters caring for U.N. wounded personnel, has space for 300 patients and its staff of medical and administrative volunteers numbers one hundred. Here, Commodore Kai Hammerich, commander of the Danish ship (left), discusses his work with Admiral Sohn of the Korean Navy.

May Snowstorm Brings Additional .19 Inch Moisture

An unseasonable snow storm on Monday of this week brought farming operations to a halt just as seeding was being cleaned up. The storm resulted in .19 of an inch of moisture being recorded bringing the total precipitation since April 1 (as measured in town) to 4.05 inches and assuring the newly seeded grain a good start.

Only a small acreage yet remains to be seeded and a day or two of dry weather will see this finished quickly.

Seek Writer of C.P.A. Essay

Somewhere in Alberta there is a high school student who may win a trip to Honolulu. The catch, is nobody knows his name.

That student entered the essay contest sponsored by Canadian Pacific Airlines, the prize for the two winning essays being a trip to Honolulu and return, all expenses paid.

An essay entitled "In Victoria's Wake" has been submitted to Canadian Pacific Airlines from a high school in Alberta. Somehow the name of the student who wrote it and the name of the school he attends was not sent with the essay. The judges are anxious to have the student's name as he has an excellent chance of winning one of those two trips to Hawaii.

If the student who wrote the essay or anyone knowing of him reads this they should communicate immediately with D. Storton, Supervisor of Sales and Traffic, Canadian Pacific Air Lines, Edmonton.

Tournament Opens Golfing Season

The opening of the local golfing season was by way of a tournament held at the Vulcan Golf Club on Thursday, May 24th.

Due to the late seeding on the land and the number of people who took advantage of the holiday to travel, a small number of players were on hand. The course was in excellent shape and despite an adverse wind in the late afternoon, those on hand enjoyed a good day on the links and showed much polish for so early in the season.

The handicap round showed a decided division in caliber of players and 18 holes were played in the two divisions of Poor and Poorer. Bob Willard won out in the first competition by the toss of a coin, and John Jamison experienced a dubious victory among the duffers. Lunch committee was ably handled by Mabel Robinson.

Armada Man Gets 16 lb. Pike

The largest fish taken out of Lake McGregor by hook and line this year was brought into Vulcan Monday morning by Glen Sealock of Armada.

The big pike weighed 16 lbs. 6 oz., was 40½ inches in length and 15½ inches in circumference.

Mr. Sealock was casting from the shore of the lake and the big fish was taken on a Thompson spinner. Just as Mr. Sealock got the pike into the shallows and almost out of the water, it broke off the hook, but he managed to scoop it ashore with his hands before it could get away. Oldtimers of the lake district claim that this particular fish resembles a muskeel more than a pike.

The one unfortunate thing about Mr. Sealock's catch was that he made it three days too soon. The Champion Lions Club pike fishing contest opened May 30, and if the Armada man's pike had been caught three days later than it was he would have been right in the running for top prize.

Bow Valley High School

Graduates Honored At Cluny Banquet and Dance

On Thursday, May 17th, the graduates of Bow Valley Central High School were honored at a banquet and dance held in the Cluny Community Hall. The graduates for the year 1950-51 are Parvash, Barbara Edwards, Helen Hnatuk, Lorraine Hoff, Dale Hunter, Helen Leadbeater, Lloyd McBean, Jean Page, Jean-Paul Riopel, Walter Semenov, Margaret Sisko, James Stewart, Gordon Warner. The guest speaker for the occasion was Mr. A. W. Hobbs a former juvenile court judge and past-president of the John Howard Society. In his work, Mr. Hobbs has had much experience with the problems of the younger generation. In his address, he stated that a Commencement is the commencement of a fuller and broader life. He also emphasized that for a young person to gauge his success on material wealth alone is perilous if one neglects the moral and physical laws of life.

A delicious meal was served by the Junior High classes under the supervision of the Student's Association. Two hundred and fifty students and parents were seated at long tables which were superbly decorated with flowers and candles bearing the school colours, purple and gold. The hall was also well decorated with streamers and balloons. Much credit is due to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Collier for their untiring efforts in making it all so colourful.

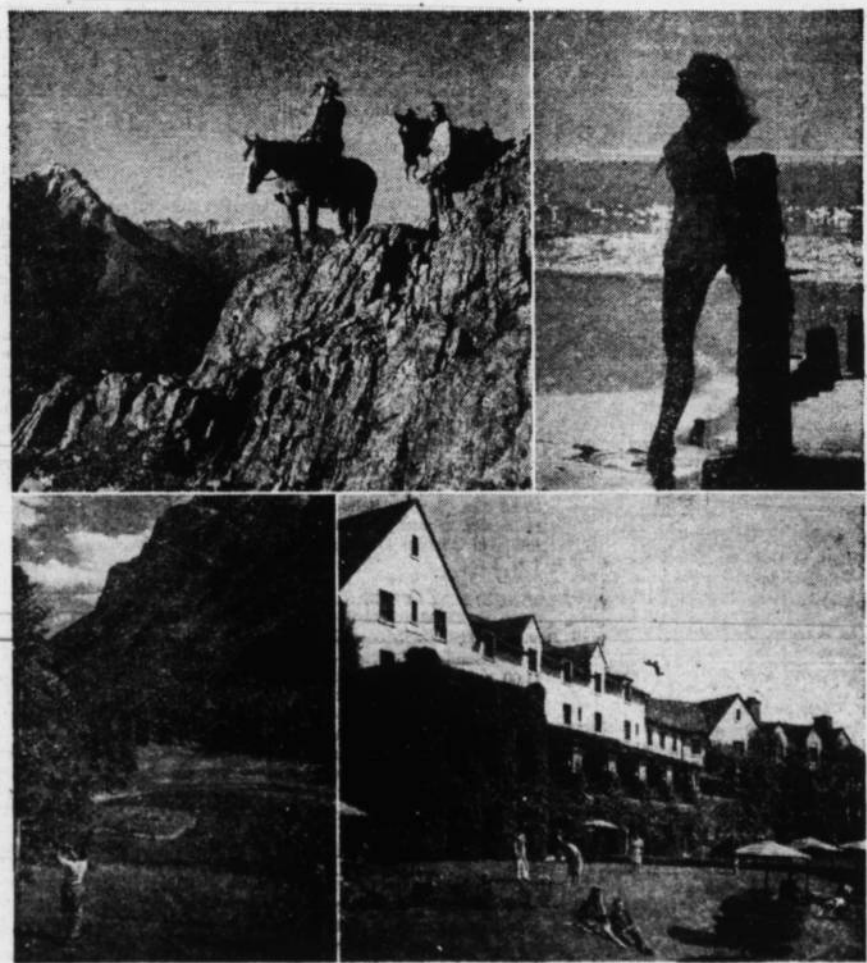

The toastmaster, James Stewart, president of the Students' Union, started the program with a toast to the King, The School, the Staff and the Students were toasted by Mr. G. McBean, Douglas McMillan and Mr. R. C. Collier. The School Board was then addressed by Mrs. A. E. Derrick and toasted by Miss Lorraine Hoff. This was replied to by Mr. W. A. Treacy, Chairman of the School board. Mrs. Viola Williams, President of the Home and School Association, then replied to a toast proposed by Harry Konschuh. The Dormitory, the Board of Trade and the Women's Institute were honored by Larry Plante and Frances McPhee. Mrs. R. C. Collier then charmed the audience with two vocal selections, "Homing" and "The Blind Ploverman."

The Alumnae, to whom the yearbook "Footprints" is dedicated, was toasted by Mr. Ed Hoff and replied to by Mrs. Mary Clark, a former graduate. The Graduates were then honored by Billy Holt, a grade nine student and the toast was answered by Walter Semenov, the Valedictorian. Mr. Semenov pointed out the transitions that are incurred by graduating are received with mixed feelings by the graduates.

With a personal message for each, Mrs. Collier presented the graduates with rose corsages and white carnation "boutonnieres". Mr. F. Betton then addressed the graduates, not as principal but as a friend, wishing them luck on their future ventures. Mr. Betton asked of them to live, rather than earn a living, to judge men by what they are and not what they have.

The program ended with "God Save the King" and the hall was then cleared for the dance which followed.

The Forty-four Freedoms

By G. E. C.

Freedom is a stirring word. Poets and orators delight in using it because of its emotional power. But what, exactly, does it mean in any given set of circumstances?

Which do you prize more highly, political freedom or religious freedom? That question may start you thinking.

It was to gain religious freedom that the Pilgrim Fathers came to this continent in 1620. Political freedom was won by the American colonies in 1781. Freedom from slavery came to the negroes of the southern States in 1865.

President F. D. Roosevelt gave the world a new phrase and a better understanding of its problems when he enumerated his Four Freedoms. "Freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want and freedom from fear"—were those the four? We are tempted to remark here that what the East needs is freedom from want and what the West needs is freedom from fear—and we might not be so far from the truth, at that! But we must move along, for there are many other freedoms of great importance to the individual. (We shall not try to list them all!)

Wives go to Reno to obtain freedom from the bonds of matrimony; sufferers from toothache go to their dentist to secure freedom from pain; men toil for years to clear off the mortgage and gain freedom from debt; We have a Russian friend who left his homeland to escape the tyranny of Communism, and what first impressed him when he arrived in Canada was his complete freedom to move around. "I get on a train at Quebec. I get off where I like. Nobody asks to see my papers. I am not once questioned by the police."

In Canada we enjoy more kinds of freedom than we can count, and that is one of them. But when we speak of freeing other countries we usually have in mind political freedom. This kind of freedom may mean much or little. Britain's colonies do not have it. One of the worst mistakes that can be made by the West in its attempt to help the East is to assume that its hungry millions are crying for political freedom. Most of them want freedom to live in peace, freedom from oppression, freedom from debt, freedom from famine, freedom to wrest a bare living from the soil. That is why any smooth-tongued Communist can lead them. He need only promise them the ownership of a small plot of ground, and they will gladly help in the "liquidation" of their grasping landlords. What does a Chinese peasant care about political freedom so long as he is free to live and raise a family!

If we of the West want to save the East from Communism, we must convince these millions that we are able and willing to help them win the kinds of freedom they are most in need of. Killing them by the tens of thousands may be an unfortunate necessity, but we shall never free the people of China by an act of conquest.

Taxing the Fighting Man

Canada has fought in two wars in the past generation and through participation in those conflicts this nation has done very well from the standpoint of its internal economy. Prior to 1914 the Dominion was dependent for its living largely on the development of farming, forestry, fishing and mining. Today Canada is a rich industrial nation of high standing.

A price had to be paid, of course, and those of the armed forces who lost their lives or were incapacitated through their wounds were the ones who paid. Those who stayed behind were able to profit materially, for war never touched our shores.

Old soldiers never die, according to the rhyme that General MacArthur repeated, they only fade away. But only too many young soldiers die, as the Canadian casualty lists from two wars bear out. War takes the flower of our youth, the brave, adventurous young fellows who can least be spared.

The last world war provided Canada with a business boom unparalleled in this country's history, but most of the wealth gravitated to the hands of those who didn't go to war, and only too many of those who were fortunate enough to return have had a hard time to re-establish themselves.

With these thoughts in mind, we believe that Hon. Douglas Abbott should get over his penny-pinching idea of imposing income taxes on Canadian boys fighting in Korea.

—Brooks Bulletin.

THIS AND THAT

BY V.A.C.

Although we celebrated Mother's Day and the birthday of Queen Victoria in May, the highlight of the month for the Vulcan High School was certainly Graduation Day, with its banquet and dance, on the evening of May 25th.

Donald Mitchell brought back memories of Mother's Day when he thanked Mrs. Chell and the other mothers who prepared the food, when he admitted that the graduation banquet would be impossible without the help given by the mothers.

Barry Coleman gave the toast to the King. The fact that he was nervous and in a great hurry was Barry's evident.

Frances McIntyre was very much at ease as she made an eloquent toast to the Town of Vulcan. Her remark about a regular Saturday night bath was very timely for Clean-up Week.

As Mayor Allan replied to the toast to the Town of Vulcan he remarked that every student present should get all the education possible if he or she wanted to go places in the world today. That idea needs to be impressed upon the minds of more people today, not only teen-age minds, but adult minds as well. I think the mayor had the same idea as Vivian Laramore who wrote in the Leslie Weekly:

A PLEA

My life is what I made it, good or ill.
Let me forever know this, and be still.
I would not lay to destiny or fate
The failures that are mine, or over-rate
Those fruitless efforts made;
But looking on this life as but a grade,
I would with contrite spirit strongly strive
To let what good there is in me survive.

"We have a fine school, with nothing to complain about," said Mayor Allan, "now that the old white school is gone."

Billy Hansell made the toast to the Home and School. It was noticeable that he couldn't get away from the family tradition of talking about money, as he thanked the H. & S. Association for financial assistance during the year. However, he made no direct reference to Social Credit.

Mr. Doug Smith, replied to the toast to the Home and School. He emphasized the need for an education when he told the story of the young man who had attended many universities to obtain Degrees. When the same fellow joined the army he was classified as "literate."

Robert Browning wrote the following lines, which contain good advice for a graduate.
Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made.

Our times are in His hand
Who saith, "A whole I planned,
Youth shows but half, trust God;
See all, nor be afraid."

Ruth Nicol left much to the imagination in her toast to the High School when she remarked that there was very little she could say. Make allowances for stage fright, kind reader.

Principal Kumlin, replied to the toast to the staff, and presented diplomas to the graduates. When wishing them success in the coming examinations he said he hoped none of them would be coming back to the Vulcan School next year for "post-graduate" work.

Jack McDonnell spoke briefly on behalf of the graduates, Maxine Ritland, Goldie Deal, Jean Smith and Billy Simington. Each received a floral token with their diploma.

There was apple, raisin, mince, lemon and pumpkin pie at the banquet, as Mr. Ulmer can vouch.

Miss Seymour and Mr. McPherson paid a silent tribute to the graduates.

At the Graduation Dance the music was good, but it was the pretty girls with dreamy eyes who kept the boys wide awake.

The many beautiful party gowns at the dance reminded me of some lines in my scrapbook: Clothes are important, they say in society.

Surely they have rightly guessed

As I listened to the teachers and students handling verbal bouquets to each other, I was reminded that there is a gulf between those who teach and those whom they attempt to teach. One day after a pupil had written a sentence on the blackboard, the teacher asked the class to find a mistake in it. One boy held up his hand.

"Where is the mistake?" the teacher asked.

"Why," replied the pupil, "he went and putten 'putten' where he ought to putten 'put'."

HOLDING SOIL MOISTURE THROUGH SAVING WINTER SNOW

Although the sequence of weather conditions is responsible for most of the loss of valuable soil moisture contained in winter snow, the loss is influenced to some extent by farming methods.

Mean snowfall at Swift Current for the last 29 years was equivalent to three inches of rainfall or 24 per cent of the annual precipitation, says W. J. Staple of the Soil Research Laboratory there.

An extreme variation in yearly snowfall is noted. The minimum was 1.5 inches water-equivalent and the maximum six inches. Seven years' measurements on Saskatchewan substations show that an average of 4.4 inches of precipitation, mostly snowfall, were received from November to April, inclusive.

And in spite of wide yearly variations the winter precipitation was effective every year in stubble fields, whereas in summer-fallow, moisture was conserved in only three years out of seven.

To retain the greatest possible depth and density of snow, Mr. Staple says, stubble should be tall and free from weeds. This emphasizes the importance of moisture conservation and weed control during the previous season.

Trash covers should be maintained on summerfallow, and additional cover should be provided for knolls to prevent snow blowing.

Deep underground air-raid shelters are included in plans being drawn up for the rebuilding of areas in Plymouth, England, damaged in the air raids of the last war.

Baseball Game

Champion and Carmangay baseball teams played their first 1951 scheduled Wheatbelt League game Sunday, May 27, at Champion. The high wind that blew all day made it rather unpleasant for the players and the large attendance of fans.

Champion defeated the visitors by a 9 to 2 score.

Champion Schools Winners

Students of Champion Schools again brought honor to the community when they retained, for the second consecutive year, the shield, emblematic of highest number of points scored at the track and field day event. It was held, last week, at Carmangay, and complete results are given elsewhere in this issue.

Elaine Groves won the cup as aggregate winner (girls) of the meet. Crests were won by: Dorothy Hartung, Ruby Beingsner, Donna Patterson, Don Mark, Leo Hardfelder and Murray Ohlweiser.

Baseball Tournament

The annual May 24th baseball tournament and dance, sponsored by the Champion Baseball Club, were exceedingly well attended, despite the high, cold wind that blew throughout the day. The dust was held down to a minimum by the sprinkling apparatus on the new fire truck. The diamond was sprinkled between each game and the roads around the outside of the diamond were wet down several times. W. Christensen and L. Christensen were in charge of the operation.

The tourney was won by the Champion nine and Picture Butte took second money.

Jack Steeves did a very fine job as umpire, behind the plate and Russ-Hegland as base umpire.

The first game was between Champion and Vulcan. Mervyn Smith was forced to retire, after being accidentally hit on the right shoulder, after having pitched 8 and one-third innings for Champion, allowing only one hit.

OIL MAKES A COUNTRY STRONG

THE ROUGHNECKS ARE MOVING ON!

In the language of the oil fields, "roughnecks" are the men of the drilling crews who probe deep in the earth for oil. You'll find them in any oil field doing the hard tedious work that goes into the drilling of every well.

But roughnecks like it best when the going is toughest and most exciting—when they move on to search for oil where it has never been found. In Alberta the odds are against them, only one wildcat well in 20 is likely to be successful.

Working against these odds, roughnecks' drills have tapped more than a billion barrels of new oil in Alberta since 1947, bringing new prosperity and new security to all Canada. In fact Canadians now produce one in every three barrels they use—but we still must depend on foreign countries for the other two. To be self-sufficient we must have three times our present reserves.

The roughnecks keep moving on in the unending search for oil. As they succeed they benefit and strengthen the entire nation.
